What is affordable housing?... ...The federal government typically defines housing as affordable when it consumes no more than 30% of a household's income. 70%

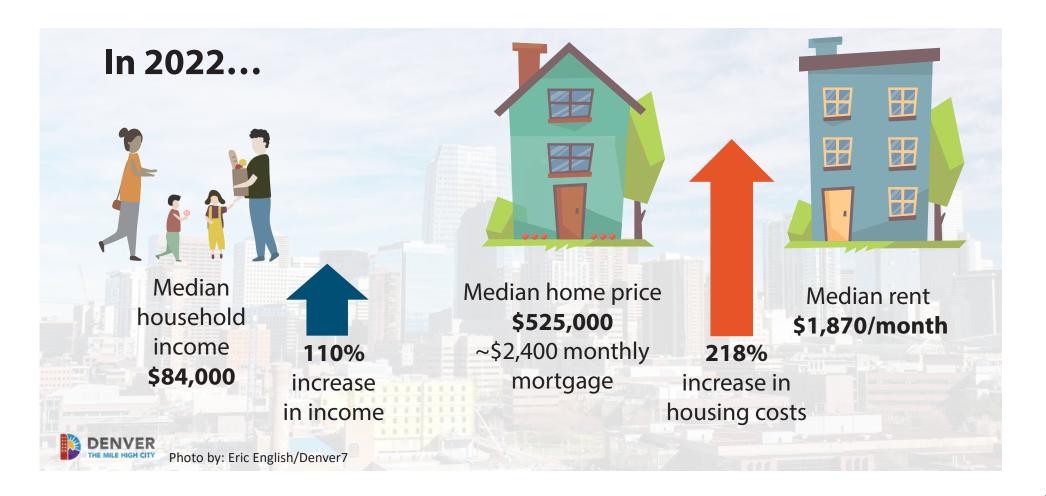

...Denver today

In 2022...
Households are spending much more on housing

Today, more than 115,000 households – or 35% of our population – are housing cost burdened.

What happens in our society when housing is unaffordable?

Greater inequities between income levels

Inability to find workers means slower economic growth overall

Longer commutes from homes to jobs means more traffic and carbon emissions

Creating new tools

The City adopted policies to ensure that, as new housing is built, new affordable housing is created too.

Area Median Income (AMI) Early Childhood Teacher $37,850 Social Worker $57,870 Food Service $27,530 Nurse $77,870 Construction $44,170 AMI 30% 80% 100% 50% 60% 120% $69,520 $86,900 $43,450 $52,140 $104,280 $26,070 $29,790 $49,650 $59,580 $79,440 $119,160 $99,300 $67,020 $89,360 $33,510 $111,700 $134,040 $55,850 $37,230 $62,050 $74,460 $99,280 $124,100 $148,920

Cherry Creek North Retail-Related Employment

